Fishers, Indiana — The Fishers Chamber Players will be conducting a “100 X 100” fundraising drive for its 2007-2008 season. “We have been successful in producing a first season of extremely high quality with limited resources,” said Artistic Director Michael Vaughn. “Now we are asking individuals and businesses in the community to step up and help us continue to build a solid foundation for our orchestra. We want to be sure that Fishers becomes known not only as a great place to live and work, but also a great place to enjoy arts and culture.”

During its first season, the Fishers Chamber Players has collaborated with award winning jazz pianist and composer, Becky Archibald, produced the Nutcracker Suite with G. Scotten Dance Academy, and conducted its first Young Artist Competition, among other accomplishments. Art Levine, Fishers Town Councilor commented, “It’s amazing what this group has achieved in a short time. Fishers is a wonderful community, but having arts groups of the quality of the Fishers Chamber Players adds an element to our area that has long been missing.” He added, “The presence of an orchestra in our town brings an identity to us that will be attractive to people looking to relocate to Fishers for jobs, and that will help businesses and our economy.”

Businesses and individuals will be asked to participate by contributing $100 toward the Fishers Chamber Players’ 2007-2008 season. “Our goal is to get 100 donors to participate,” Executive Director, Nana Gaskins Vaughn, said. “It is a modest goal, but we think it is very attainable and will help us achieve our goals for next season,” Gaskins Vaughn added. “For the long term success of our organization, we need individuals in the community and businesses to step in and help.” 100 X 100 donors will receive recognition in 2007-2008 season programs and on the organization’s website, as well as be able to opt to receive 10 complimentary tickets to concerts of their choice.

As the 100 X 100 drive begins, the orchestra’s Founders Program will conclude on June 1, 2007. Individuals who donate at least $250 and businesses who donate at least $500 to FCP before 6/1/07 will be permanently listed as a “FOUNDER” in each future concert program & on the website, as well as being recognized for their participation in the 2007-2008 “100 X 100 campaign.”

For more information on how to make a contribution to the Fishers Chamber Players’ “100 X 100 Campaign” and/or “Founders Program” as well as member benefits, please contact Executive Director, Nana Gaskins Vaughn, at 317-598-1755, or nana@FishersMusic.org
